Golf Courses

Salobre Golf Club - The 18-hole, PAR 71 Salobre Old Course, opened in 1999 and designed by Roland Favré, has hosted prestigious championships such as the Spanish PGA and both the Senior and Women's Spanish Championships. In recent years, the course has seen extensive updates, including redesigned bunkers, rough areas, and new tees, enhancing both the golfing experience and the course's sustainability. David William's work has brought the Old Course into harmony with its natural surroundings, creating a unique and enjoyable experience for golfers of all levels.

Anfi Tauro Golf Club - This is a spectacular 18-hole championship course in southern Gran Canaria, offering lakes, waterfalls, and breathtaking views of volcanic mountains and nearby beaches. Opened in 2006, this Arizona-inspired course was crafted by renowned architects Von Hagge, Smelek, and Baril, known for its distinctive layout and inventive challenges. Anfi Tauro is truly unique and a must-play experience for golfers visiting Gran Canaria. Buggies are mandatory and can only be paid locally on arrival at the course.

Meloneras Golf Club - an 18-hole championship course on Gran Canaria's stunning south coast, offering a unique challenge with 9 holes facing the mountains and 9 with breathtaking ocean views. The course is an oasis of palm trees and lakes, surrounded by spectacular sea and mountain vistas, situated between the Maspalomas sand dunes and Pasito Blanco harbour. With four tees per hole, it's accessible to all skill levels, but don't be misled by the gentle opening—the difficulty increases with each hole, offering a truly engaging experience.
